An Overview

A Complete Document Imaging Solution

Your business needs fast and easy access to mission-critical information. However, up to 80% of all business information is “unstructured data”—that is, it’s stored on paper or in computer files that are not part of a relational database.

1mage Software (“one image”) designs and markets document management systems that capture, store, and display electronic files and paper-based documents as graphical images and COLD files that integrate with sophisticated databases. We provide access in seconds—not days—to all types of information within an office, across departments, throughout an enterprise, or globally via the Web.

Our solutions help you realize direct savings by:

- Eliminating off-site storage
- Reducing operational costs
- Improving efficiency and productivity

Indirectly, you also can save by cutting file retrieval time, increasing employee satisfaction, and never losing another file. And you can enhance security and make better use of space, too.

Our cost-effective, useful, and scalable solutions run on most major platforms and database types - including Linux, where we provide superior price performance and flexibility.

We Make It Simple

1mage understands that you want to avoid the high costs, delays, and headaches of unfamiliar or incompatible systems. Our server-based products integrate with your line-of-business application software. You don’t have to deal with a “stand-alone” imaging system, which means that there’s no disruption of your daily operations.

We offer more than just good products, too. Through pre- and post-installation technical support, we ensure that your business gets the functionality it needs from our software. We also provide superior customer service and comprehensive training programs.

You know your business. 1mage can help you make imaging an effective part of your

Web Solutions

Today, most organizations are global in some sense. Do you need to share information with geographically dispersed suppliers, customers, and business associates? Offer easy and secure online access to your electronic documents with

Platform and Database Options

1mage products are offered on the UNIX, Linux, and Windows NT® Family platforms. One of our key strengths is integrating with IBM's U2 databases, AS/400 and other popular databases. Choose whatever fits your needs.

Extensive API Library

1MAGE uses APIs (Application Programming Interfaces) for fast, efficient image-enabling of your business applications. In contrast to other methods of image-enabling, APIs are affordable and easy to program and administer. With our APIs, your business application can be image-enabled with 1MAGE in days, instead of months, and changes are quick and painless.

How We Can Help...

Customer Service

If your customer service team cannot instantly access accurate, complete, and up-to-date information, your customers will be the first to notice. 1mage document imaging and management technologies can help you:

- Serve more customers better with existing or fewer staff
- Shorten turnaround time for critical transactions
- Resolve inquiries on the first call
- Enhance customer satisfaction

Accounting & Finance

Thriving in business means taking care of business—paying vendors, collecting past-due invoices, billing customers. Our 1IMAGE document imaging system can automate your critical business systems while improving performance and productivity.

- Reduce your number of A/R days
- Automate billing processes
- Display and approve vendor invoices
- Replace “green bar” reports with electronic reports

Human Resources

Need a document that shows proof of insurance? Need to know when an employee went on leave? Need to find a C++ programmer? With 1IMAGE®, it is all at your fingertips with secure access.

- Employment applications
- Resumes, certifications
- Annual reviews
- Promotion/change of position
- Insurance documents
- Pension documents
- 1099s, W-2s, W-4s

Why Choose 1mage?

•Value

Information management should be affordable for businesses of any size. We offer a high-quality system at a reasonable cost. Also, 1mage products are feature-rich, rivaling many of the leading document management solutions on the market—at a fraction of the cost.

•Easy Implementation

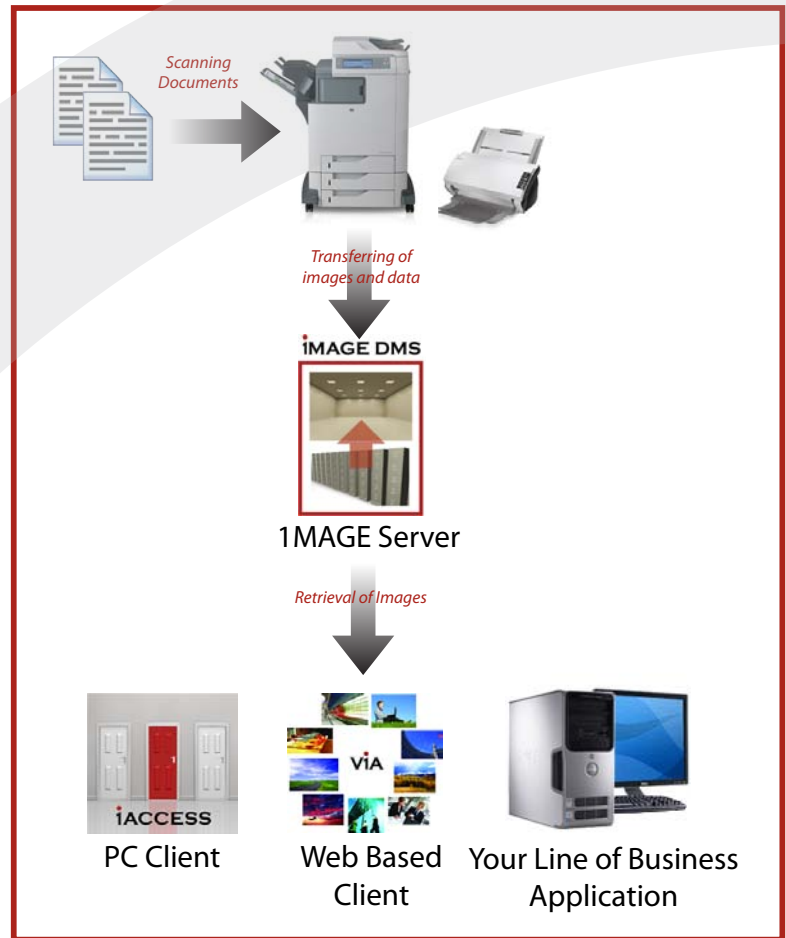

Choosing 1mage will not only make your business more efficient—it will make your IT department happy, too. We've done the hard work with our APIs, so your programmers can focus on your business. Our solution can be implemented in days rather than months.

•Scalability

As your company grows, so will the number of documents you manage—and so must your document management system. Our systems can efficiently handle high volumes of diverse documents. However, we also offer affordable entry-level products.

•Security

Your documents will actually be more secure with the 1MAGE system than with conventional paper-based files or on your departmental systems. Users must log in, and access to image types is based on permissions that you control.

All Applications. All Documents. All Together.
